

- Most flower shops have books containing traditional designs that you can select from.
- If you have something specific in mind, be sure to communicate your thoughts to your florist well ahead of time in case he or she has to order any special types of flowers or plants.

- Another tip is to take a photo of a flower arrangement you like to your florist so they can make reference to it while ordering.